The world's slowest production line

(That's what it takes to make a Baldwin Grand)

From raw materials to finished piano at Baldwin's grand piano factory takes well over a year. Craftsmen make and assemble parts with careful deliberation — by hand. An efficiency expert would be shocked.

Fortunately, Baldwin grand pianos are not built for efficiency experts. They are built for famous concert artists who prefer Baldwin for their performances and their homes.

Baldwin's smaller pianos don't take quite so long to build as the 9-foot concert grand, but you can't teach an old tortoise new tricks. Baldwin has been doing things right since 1862. That's why all Baldwin-built pianos (and organs) enjoy such a fine reputation.
